Christmas Thoughts

“Let us come close to the crib. If you love riches, you will find the gold that the kings brought; if you are looking for the smoke of honors, you will find that in the incense; and if you take delight in the delicacies of the senses, you will find the delicate perfume of myrrh that pervades the stable. Be rich in love for this adorable Savior, respectful in the familiarity with which you relate to Him, and delight in the joy of experiencing in your soul so many inspirations and affections because you belong exclusively to Him.”

-St. Francis de Sales

Christmas Eve

By St. Alphonsus

God had decreed that His Son should be born not in the house of Joseph, but in a cavern and stable of beasts, in the poorest and most painful way that a child can be born; and therefore He caused Caesar to publish an edict, by which people were commanded to go and enroll themselves, every one in his own city whence he drew his origin.

When Joseph heard this order, he was much agitated as to whether he should take with him or leave behind the Virgin Mother, as she was now so near childbirth. My spouse and my lady, said he to her, on the one hand, I do not wish to leave you alone; on the other, if I take you with me, I am much afflicted at the thought of all that you will have to suffer during this long journey, and in such severe weather. My poverty will not permit me to conduct you with that comfort which you require. But Mary answers him, and tries to give him courage with these words: My Joseph, do not fear. I will go with you; the Lord will assist us. She knew, both by divine inspiration, and also because she was well versed in the prophecy of Micheas, that the divine Infant was to be born in Bethlehem. She therefore takes the swaddling clothes, and the other miserable garments already prepared, and departs with Joseph. And Joseph also went up...to be enrolled with Mary.

Let us now consider all the devout and holy discourses which these two holy spouses must have held during this journey concerning the mercy, goodness and love of the divine Word, who was shortly to be born, and to appear on the earth for the salvation of men. Let us also consider the praises, the benedictions, the thanksgivings, the acts of humility and love, which these two illustrious pilgrims uttered on the way. This holy Virgin, so soon to become a mother, certainly suffered much in so long a journey, made in the middle of winter, and over rough roads; but she suffered with peace and with love. She offered to God all these her trials uniting them to those of Jesus, whom she carried in her womb.

Oh, let us unite ourselves also, and let us accompany Mary and Joseph in the journey of our life; and with them, let us accompany the King of Heaven, Who is born in a cave and makes His first appearance in the world as an infant, but as the poorest and most forsaken infant that ever was born amongst men. And let us beseech Jesus, Mary, and Joseph that, through the merits of the pains which they suffered in this journey, they would accompany us in the journey that we are making to eternity. Oh, blessed shall we be if, in life and in death, we keep company with these three great personages, and are always accompanied by them!

The Angels at the Nativity

Let us this day venerate the Angels who adored Jesus at the moment of His Incarnation, and when He appeared in the flesh. No sooner did He assume our nature at Mary's fiat, than her room is filled with innumerable troops of these blessed Spirits, all vying with one another in adoring the Son, and in greeting the Mother; and on that ever blessed night, when He appeared wrapped in swaddling clothes, and was laid in a manger, they again descend and rend the air with “Glory be to God on high, and peace on earth to men of good will!”

Glory be to God on high. And on earth peace to men of good will. We praise Thee. We bless Thee. We adore Thee. We glorify Thee. We give thanks to Thee for Thy great glory. Lord God, heavenly King, God the Father Almighty. Lord Jesus Christ, the Only-begotten Son. Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, Who takest away the sins of the world: Have mercy on us. Who takest away the sins of the world: Receive our prayer. Who sittest at the right hand of the Father: Have mercy on us. For Thou only art holy, Thou only art Our Lord. Thou only, O Jesus Christ, art most high, together with the Holy Ghost, in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

Polish Christmas Custom

Poland offers the world as beautiful a festival in the spiritual values of the occasion as can be found in the whole realm of Religious tradition in its “Festival of the Star.”

December 24th is a Fast Day until the first star appears in the evening sky. This star is eagerly watched for by the children who strive with one another to be the first to announce it. The “Wilia,” or Christmas Supper, then begins. Straw is placed under the table, the dishes and tablecloth; a chair is left vacant for the Holy Child.

The head of the family takes a thin wafer bearing Christmas characters and blessed by the Priest and with a simple prayer for God's Grace and the welfare of the present, and absent, member of his family, breaks the wafer and distributes it, a piece to each, at the table.

The traditional Supper of certain fish then commences, followed by the choicest and most varied of the regional foods the house can offer. After the Supper the streets are traversed by boys and girls singing carols, and carrying “Zopkas” with marionettes performing upon its miniature stage the traditional Nativity Play. Also thronging the streets will be other boys garbed as strange beasts, the devil, and other characters, led by a Star Boy; echoes of some long-forgotten Miracle Play. The “Festival of the Star” is brought to a close with the celebration at midnight of the “Shepherd’s Mass.”

On the feast of the Epiphany, the priest and the organist visit the homes, bless them and write over their doors the initials of the three wise men...in the belief that this will spare the homes from misfortune.

The two polish carols: Gdy Sie, Chrystus Rodzi (When Christ is Born) and Medrcy Swiata (Three Wise Men) are a beautiful tribute to Christmas and the Epiphany.

You Come Down from the Stars

Music and Verse by St. Alphonsus de Liguori

You come down from the stars

Oh King of Heavens,

And you come in a cave

In the cold, in the frost.

Oh my Divine Baby

I see you trembling here,

Oh Blessed God,

Ah, how much it cost you,

Your loving me.

Ah, how much it cost you,

Your loving me.

For you, who are of all the world

The creator,

No robes and fire,

Oh my Lord.

No robes and fire,

Oh my Lord.

Dear chosen one, little infant

This dire poverty,

Makes me love you more

Since Love made you

Poor now.

Since Love made you

Poor now.

Note from Father

Dear Faithful,

Today is the last Sunday of Advent and it is only a short couple of days until we rejoice at the great feast of the Nativity of Our Lord Jesus Christ. The Word is made flesh and dwells amongst us!! It is so important that while the world celebrates materialism by mountains of gifts, we remember that the most important gift was given to us on the very first Christmas...The Only Begotten Son of the Father.

Both at St. Gertrude’s and at St. Hugh’s volunteers have been busy preparing and decorating the Church for this great feast. Often times Frs. McGuire and Lehtoranta enjoy joking that I am a scrooge or a Grinch. It is, of course, light-hearted banter based in the reality that 1) I am very devoted to the separation of the Advent and Christmas seasons (I hate seeing Advent being forgotten) and 2) That I don’t really care for modern Christmas songs and decorations. {Inflatable Santa’s need not apply!} However, this Grinch’s heart grows three times its size every Christmas midnight Mass when I see the beautiful Christmas manger and decorations at our churches and hear the beautiful liturgical Christmas music and traditional hymns bringing in this high feast. Many thanks to all the servers, choir members, organist, and volunteers who have made our Christmas seasons so wonderful. I can’t wait to get up to St. Hugh and take in all its beauty.

My visit last weekend was very enjoyable. The weather could not have been better for early winter. It was sunny and dry. I enjoyed going down by the lake after checking some books out of the Salzman library, as well as the beautiful sunset I enjoyed enroute to the St. Joseph of Arimathea mission in Park Falls. Some rose colored skies for Gaudete Sunday and its wonderful Rose vestments.

Fr. Lehtoranta, (our own Father Christmas), has joined you for this weekend and remains there through the start of the New Year. His extended visit provides ample opportunity for people to attend some extra Masses and make good Christmas confessions. If it has been a while since you have last confessed your sins, be sure to take advantage of his presence. Christ came to redeem man from sin, after all!

Fr. McGuire and I are here at St. Gertrude’s for the Midnight Mass. Father stays for the feast day, while I take off on Christmas morning to fly up and say Christmas evening Mass for the faithful in Grand Forks, ND. I then continue to Powers Lake and then Dallas for Christmas week Masses. Some wonder if it is hard to travel for Christmas. My answer often surprises people...NO! There is no greater way for a priest to spend Christmas than being able to provide the opportunity for the faithful to visit the Christ Child, not just as a statue in the manger, but in the Flesh in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

May your Christmas be filled with many blessings and may the Christ Child be an ever present and intimate part of your Christmas season.

In Our Infant Redeemer,

Fr. McKenna
