✦ Announcements ✦

Religious Articles will be blessed after both Masses this morning.

Join us this Saturday morning at 8:00 for Paul Olszewski's Requiem Mass. He never got his Funeral Mass here at St. Hugh of Lincoln, so this will count for that. I hope to see a great number of you here to assist at his Mass and help free him from Purgatory, should he still need our prayers for that purpose. After the Mass ends, at approximately 9:15 AM, we will pray to Our Lady for peace in the Fatima Rosary Procession. She asked the three children to come to meet her on the 13th of every month from May to October. We continue to commemorate this by making a Rosary Procession on the 13th of these months. Saturday will be a big day of prayer, but it will be time well spent!!

Look Ahead!

The Voice of the Precious Blood

O come ye to the Banquet,
To the Feast of My Precious Blood,
The table is spread and ready
Bedecked with roses – both blossom and bud.

Roses I'm waiting to shower
On those for whom I have bled,
Roses for you and for others,
Roses snow-white and blood-red.

E'en as a Child in the manger
I craved for the love of men,
"Tho a helpless Babe on My bed of straw
Yet looking ahead to Calvary I saw
I'd still thirst for the love of men.

Then come to Me, O ye faithful,
And comfort your Saviour's Heart.

Come to Me; do not tarry;
I've graces and gifts to impart.
To you who have ever been faithful,
Yet perhaps have known sorrow and pain,
To you who have favors you seek for
Goes My fond invitation again.

Bring your trials and crosses to Calvary;
Place them there beside Mine Own;
For the God-Man of Calvary, dear ones,
Has the greatest of sorrows known.
I've asked you before. Did you heed Me?
I've pleaded. Have I pleaded in vain?
Have recourse to the Blood of your Saviour;
"Twill take from you every stain.

Concerning Our Lady

"The Most Holy Virgin places herself between her Son and us.
The greater sinners we are, the more tenderness and compassion does she feel for us. The child that has cost its mother most tears is the dearest to her heart."

-St. John Vianney

"O Mother of goodness, may the hearts of all the faithful unceasingly bless and love your maternal and devoted heart!"

-St. John Eudes

Note from Father

Dear Faithful,

Despite missing the Friday feast of the Sacred Heart and again Saturday's Mass of Ss. Peter and Paul it turned out to be quite an eventful and pastoral weekend. Sunday morning started early with Will Schlueter, a recent convert to our Faith, being received into the Church. We all extend our sincere congratulations as well as our hope and prayers for his perseverance. The ceremonies were finished just in time to get things ready for our first Sunday with two Masses. The second Mass had a somewhat low attendance, but this was expected. We have to endure some "growing pains" while we look forward to pulling in more souls from the Novus Ordo and elsewhere. I think we will eventually do just that.

The morning Masses finished, I drove up to visit Fr. McKenna's St. Joseph of Arimathea Mission in Park Falls, Wisconsin. It is a beautiful drive, especially the last hour or so. In fact, I was picking out where I'm going to build my hermitage when I go into retirement and become a hermit! Well, that won't happen anytime soon – but we can still have our little dreams! There were only a few parishioners at the mission Mass, but some were sick or out of town. Still, it was not a bad number for a mission center. I decided to drive back to Milwaukee that night, and did so without too much difficulty.

The next morning, we had an impromptu High Mass in honor of the Precious Blood! I'm always game for a High Mass, so anytime a choir member or the organist wants to do an extra one let me know!

Fr. Lehtoranta has been away on a much-needed vacation. He has been through Mississippi and a few other states visiting historical sites and whatnot. It is so nice to see him relaxing so much after all of his constantly busy days as a teacher in the school down at St. Gertrude's. Father took today out of his vacation to offer the Holy Mass for you in Milwaukee, but then will do some site seeing in Wisconsin, including visiting Fr. Wish's grave. I would like to do that one day. Perhaps we can round up some parishioners in November for a pilgrimage and do an All Souls' Rosary Procession and bless his grave. Any takers?

Fr. Cekada just recently finished his article explaining the controversy of the Society of St. Pius V. Still today, the SSPV refuses sacraments to those who attend our Masses, but without any reason for doing so. The article is a monumental one that should put to rest any questions and, hopefully, future controversy on the matter.

This Saturday is the Fatima Rosary Procession, remember. We will also have the Requiem Mass for Paul Olszewski. St. Hugh was devoted to going to poor people's funerals since so very few people would have otherwise shown up to them. Let's imitate our patron this Saturday and make our best efforts to come to the Mass to pray for our good friend, Paul. The world, and even most Novus Ordites, have forgotten to pray for these poor, almost abandoned souls in Purgatory. But you and I, we can make friends of them by attending Masses offered for them, offering our Rosaries and sacrifices for them! How good it is to have the Communion of Saints!

Well, I thought I was done writing this week's note, but then an incident happened that I just had to write about. It was only a small thing judging by our standards, but I think it is actually something much more important from Heaven's standards. So, I was out for my afternoon exercise, jogging this time, on Friday when a white sedan drove past me and then pulled into a gravel parking lot. I thought he was just turning around or something and thought very little about it. But as I kept jogging towards him he motioned me over. I thought he would be asking me directions, but no! It seems that when he drove past me he noticed my Brown Scapular (I guess it had come out of my shirt in the back, unbeknownst to me). "Is that a Scapular that you have on?" he asked. "Yes, it is." He then went on to compliment me for wearing it and expressed his wish that a lot more people would wear it. I asked this man if he wore his. "Every day!" was his response. So I pointed him in the direction of St. Gertrude the Great Church. The man was only in his thirties, by the looks of him. Why do I tell this story? One day long ago, Our Lady told St. Dominic that she would one day save the world through the Scapular and the Rosary. We are surrounded by a society that is controlled by the powers of hell, you can see it in all the news you've been receiving. So often, too, we almost despair of the salvation of souls, even of our Novus Ordo relatives. But Our Lady rewards even the smallest devotions done in her honor. I am sure that Our Lady has big plans for the man in this story. And I would bet most anything that, if he perseveres in his devotion to Our Lady, we'll all see him in heaven and say in surprise, "Aren't you that guy that Fr. McGuire told us about?" Show devotion to Our blessed Mother...always. Spread devotion to her as much as you can. She is the secret to finding and saving souls in these days of the general apostasy!

Fr. McGuire

"Offer Me My Heart!"

Every grace has been won for us by the Precious Blood of the Heart of Jesus: every grace which comes to us has been purchased by that redeeming power. Then let us go to Jesus in the Most Blessed Sacrament, where that Divine Heart lives, loves, throbs for love of us! Jesus in His Mystery of Love is the first of all supernatural sources from which we ought to draw. Prodigies are daily revealed to those who take refuge to the Eucharistic Heart of Jesus. Such prodigies were promised by Our Lord to His favored spouse, St. Gertrude, when, on a certain Holy Thursday, he revealed: "Whenever you desire to obtain anything from Me, Offer Me My Heart...I give you this special mark of friendship, that It shall be presented to whomsoever you pray for...that he may be supplied therefrom with all he needs!"

An Offering of the Precious Blood for Souls

O my God, I beg of Thee in union with the Immaculate Heart of Mary, through the merits of the Precious Blood offered Thee in every Sacrifice of the Mass throughout the world, to grant that this day one mortal sin may be averted, one soul in doubt may be converted to the truth, one soul about to die in sin may receive the grace of repentance and a happy death, and the deliverance of that soul in purgatory which is nearest heaven. I wish by this offering to console the Heart of Jesus in agony for the souls lost through the teaching of error against the true Church of Christ Jesus, Our Lord. Amen.

The Challenge of Aging

Waiting patiently in expectation does not necessarily get easier as we become older. On the contrary, as we grow in age we are tempted to settle down in a routine way of living and say, "Well, I have seen it all. ... There is nothing new under the sun....I am just going to take it easy and live the days as they come." But in this way our lives lose their creative tension. We no longer expect something really new to happen. We become cynical or self-satisfied or simply bored.

The challenge of aging is waiting with an ever-greater patience and an ever-stronger expectation. It is living with an eager hope. It is trusting that through Christ "we have been admitted into God's favor...and look forward exultantly to God's glory" (Romans 5:2).
